

Gochujang Yogurt Chicken

September 11, 2026

Recipe information

TOTAL TIME 30 minutes (plus marinating)

YIELD 4–6 servings

Ingredients

- 4–6 garlic cloves, finely grated (about 1 Tbsp.)

- ½ cup plain whole-milk Greek yogurt
- ¼ cup gochujang (Korean hot pepper paste)
- 3 Tbsp. pure maple syrup
- 3 Tbsp. soy sauce
- 1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1½ tsp. Diamond Crystal or 1 tsp. Morton kosher salt
- ½ tsp. freshly ground pepper
- 2½–3 lb. skinless, boneless chicken thighs
- Nonstick vegetable oil spray or vegetable oil (for wire rack)

Looking for the perfect drink pairing?

ASK AI

Preparation

Step 1

Whisk 4–6 garlic cloves, finely grated (about 1 Tbsp.), ½ cup plain whole-milk Greek yogurt, ¼ cup gochujang (Korean hot pepper paste), 3 Tbsp. pure maple syrup, 3 Tbsp. soy sauce, 1 Tbsp. vegetable oil, 1½ tsp. Diamond Crystal or 1 tsp. Morton kosher salt, and ½ tsp. freshly ground pepper in a small bowl until salt is mostly dissolved. (If you'd like to reserve ¼ cup marinade for dressing, now is the time; chill until ready to use.)

Step 2

Pour marinade into a large resealable plastic bag and add 2½–3 lb. skinless, boneless chicken thighs. Close bag and turn chicken to coat. Let sit at room temperature at least 20 minutes, or chill, turning occasionally, up to 12 hours.

Step 3

Heat broiler. Place a wire rack inside a foil-lined rimmed baking sheet. Coat or brush rack with nonstick vegetable oil spray or vegetable oil. Remove chicken from marinade, letting excess drip back into bag, and arrange, smoother side up, on rack. Broil, turning halfway through, until golden brown with some edges getting a deeper char, 15–18 minutes. Let chicken rest about 5 minutes, then slice if desired.

Step 4

If using reserved marinade as a sauce, add 1–2 Tbsp. water to reserved marinade to thin to desired consistency. Serve chicken with sauce drizzled over.

Explore Bon Appétit Chicken Thigh Chicken Poultry Yogurt Korean East Asian Asian Grilling Broil Nut-Free Dinner Weeknight Meals Meal Prep

bon appétit | epicurious